|  | • Pupils should develop an awareness of the past, using common words and phrases relating to the passing of time. They should know where the people and events they study fit within a chronological framework and identify similarities and differences between ways of life in different periods. They should use a wide vocabulary of everyday historical terms. They should ask and answer questions, choosing and using parts of stories and other sources to show that they know and understand key features of events. They should understand some of the ways in which we find out about the past and identify different ways in which it is represented. | •  | Pupils should continue to develop a chronologically secure knowledhistory, establishing clear narratives within and across the periods toand trends over time and develop the appropriate use of historicalsometimes devise historically valid questions about change, cause,should construct informed responses that involve thoughtful selectinformation.
