WEEKLY Roundup

In the news this week;

- We have been very pleased to welcome Mrs Serrant-Fontaine back from maternity leave. She has already been impressed by the talents and enthusiasm of our wonderful Acorn class.
- We said a fond farewell and big thank you to Dionne who left her Midday Supervisor role.
- Check out page 2 for information about our upcoming uniform shop! #Saving money and the planet!
- All the children received their Walk to School challenge Dinosaur badges for their efforts in taking active journeys to school. They're now working towards their Woolly Mammoth badge - Here are some Woolly Mammoth facts;
  - * Woolly mammoths are extinct relatives of the elephants that are alive today.
  - * They lived with humans during the Ice Age, 20,000 years ago.
  - * They used their 15 foot long tusks to dig through the snow and find food, like shrubs and greens.
- Our NEW SCHOOL WEBSITE is now launched and live!

Our friends at Five Talents have worked hard to bring us up to date and produce a slick new website to help us all find and share information much more easily. The new site is also more mobile & tablet friendly. Click on the link below and do some exploring. We'd love to know what you think. Please also get in touch if you struggle to find anything or think something is missing.
