WEEKLY Roundup

In the news this week;

It's been another busy week at school this week.

- Acorns and Willow have been learning about Remembrance Day and painted some beautiful poppy artwork to remember those who fell.
- Sycamore have been learning all about Antarctica, Emperor penguins and using different materials to build their own bridges before testing their strength using weights!
- Elm have been learning about the work of Georgia O'Keefe this week in their art lessons. They have been studying flowers in detail to create fabulous large scale flowers work in pastels.
- Oak have been playing with electricity this week (don't try this at home folks!) and creating simple circuits using different components.

NUT ALLERGIES - In the interests of children's safety, can we please ask that you don't send any lunch items or snacks that might contain nuts into school please. We have a number of children with significant allergies and don't want to put them at risk. Thank you for your support.

We have experienced some issues with people parking on the zigzags outside school and are worried about pupils' safety. Please read the following and make sure you're not putting our children at risk

Safety tips for parking outside school

When picking up or dropping off children at school, you should do the following:

- Allow yourself plenty of time as the area is likely to be busy.
- Do not park on yellow zigzag lines and avoid parking opposite them.
- If you decide to park further away, please be considerate of local residents and avoid blocking driveways or accessways.

Is it illegal to park on zig-zag lines outside schools?

- Yes, it's always illegal to park on yellow zig-zag lines anywhere. Rule 243 of the Highway Code indicates a range of places where motorists must not park, including on a bend, a dropped kerb or the brow of a hill. It also states that drivers must not park near a school entrance.

What is the penalty for parking on zig-zag lines?

- It depends on which body issues the penalty. If caught by the police, although it's a non-endorsable offence, drivers could face a fine of between £50 and £100. A local authority issuing a penalty charge notice may fine the driver either £50 or £70, though the charge is usually halved if paid within 14 days
